International Ceramics
Studio

The International Ceramics Studio (ICS) is in the town of Kecskemét in the Hungarian Great Plain, eighty kilometres south from the capital, Budapest.

a centre of excellence in the world of ceramics

This world famous centre was created over 30 years ago on the initiative of founder and former director János Probstner with the support of Hungarian artists who had felt culturally and ideologically isolated by the political system of that time.

mission

The mission of the ICS is to promote the formal, aesthetic and technical development of ceramics, an art which plays a paramount role in the formation of our environment and culture.
